

There She Goes
Fashionista on a mission

▲ White cuffed shorts with 6 golden buttons from Forever21 - $48

▲ Navy blue sailor shorts from Forever21 - $58

▲ Cream, orange and brown striped cuffed shorts with matching ribbon from Forever21 - $43

Up, up and away!

That doesn't necessarily refer to a guy in bright blue leotards and chilli padi red undies. We're talking about hemlines for shorts, or rather, short shorts as we call it. For once, Singaporeans are dressing according to the climate here, and we say shorts are a good (and long-awaited) fashion solution to jeans. And since the temperature is climbing, so are the hemlines of these shorts. Wear them if you must, but just make sure you've got the booty to go with the shorties.

By Cheryl Zhang

▲ Red, blue and yellow plaid cuffed shorts from Forever21 - $43

▲ Blue denim Moto hot pants with unfinished edges from Topshop - $63

▲ Pink cuffed shorts with two front pockets and floral buttons from Forever21 - $48

▲ Denim Moto cuffed white hot pants from Topshop - $63

▼ Black cuffed shorts with polka dot lining from Forever21 - $38

▼ Black and white floral shorts from Forever21 - $48

▲ High corset-like dark wash blue denim hot pants from Topshop - $73

▲ Black denim hot shorts with two rows of buttons from Topshop - $73

▲ Grey high waisted hot pants from Topshop - $73

▲ Plain brown shorts with gold button from Forever21 - $38

▲ Cream and green striped cuffed shorts with olive buttons from Forever21 - $48

▲ Bright orange cuffed shorts with two matching orange buttons from Forever21 - $48

High waisted belted 4-buttoned black shorts from Topshop - $73

▲ Denim Moto cuffed black hot pants from Topshop - $63

▲ Silver and grey hot pants from Topshop - $73